

Peghini Trio • (Berlin)

Singer/Songwriter pop vs. urban world grooves

The Peghini Trio masterfully mixes ethnic Music styles with German language rap/songwriting culture and modern groove. Their Music works unplugged just as well as on larger stages. The trio`s three multi-instrumentalist band members understand how to pull from all registers between improvisation and arrangement, without missing the point of good Music.

The lead singer and songwriter, Siddhartha Peghini, sings, raps and writes passionate lyrics, playing either acoustic guitar or electric bass as accompaniment. He uses the German language to craft an almost Latin American sound, and already wins audiences over in his numerous solo performances as SID.

His influences lie somewhere between the German folk singer, Hannes Wader, and Eminem. His songs show intelligent jest, wordplay, and respect for musical styles that influence his own. With humor and irony, and not without a pinch of social criticism, he walks the razor`s edge between sincerity and stoic sarcasm.

David Beck, a Berliner with Music in his blood is a virtuoso Oud player with adept improvisation skills. David, the founder of Nomad Soundsystem, and Gnawa Impulse`s guitarist, has a sound somewhere between oriental Folk and modern music. He has not only mastered various string instruments, but also has a hand in rhythm instruments as well.

Tayfun Schulzke is the band`s driving rhythm. The temperamental half German, half Turk is an impressive drummer on the Cajon as well as a talented multi-percussionist. As if that weren`t enough, he plays Didgeridoo, which he more than proved as a member of Didges Brew.

All three members of the Peghini Trio illustrate that the whole can be more than the sum of ist parts. The Trio`s broad repertoire consists of countless songs of their own composition, in addition to many international hits. Whether unplugged or amped up, with the Peghini Trio fun is always on the program.
